

I do not approve of New Jersey's consumer protection laws being weakened. I want the privacy I currently have in my home, from telemarketers, to remain as such. My 10 and 12 year old children agree with my same comments, as they feel they have also been attacked by the incessant ringing of our phone, especially during our limited family time.